

What do these traffic signs and signal mean?

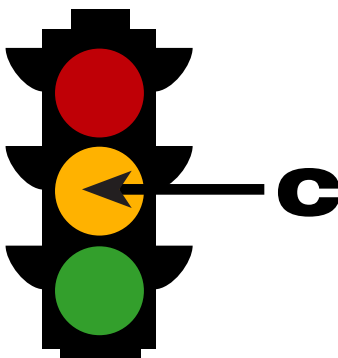

Match each sign or signal with the correct clues by drawing a line from the clue to the sign. If you need to get help from someone, don't be afraid to ask, that is how you learn!

This signal means that the light will soon be changing to red, so it warns car, truck, motorcycle, and bicycle traffic that they should slow down to stop for the red light. This signal also lets people waiting to cross the street that the light will soon be right for them to cross.

Car, truck, motorcycle, and bicycle traffic using this sign need to stop only if needed to avoid intruding on other traffic that has the right-of-way.

This sign warns car, truck, motorcycle, and bicycle traffic that there may be people crossing the street just ahead in a crosswalk. This means that drivers should be careful.

This sign is used when 2 streets meet so car, truck, motorcycle, and bicycle traffic will come to a complete standstill. When it is safe, traffic takes turns moving forward or turning in the order that they arrived at the sign. (Traffic needs to remember to wait for people crossing the street before they decide to go, people crossing have the right-of-way.)
